Human Trafficking

Do you know how to recognize the signs that you have encountered a victim of human trafficking?

Seminar

If you cannot answer yes to the above question, this seminar is for you! Do you realize the scope of the human trafficking problem? In 2010, the Select Committee on Children and Youth prepared a public chapter passed by the General Assembly that directed a study on the impact of human sex trafficking in Tennessee and its impact on children and youth. In turn, the committee asked the TBI to conduct the study. With the assistance of Vanderbilt University and survey participation from more than 1,000 law enforcement officers and social service providers across the state who investigate sex trafficking cases or come in contact with victims, the TBI produced the first-ever research publication on human sex trafficking focused just on Tennessee. The Impact on Children and Youth 2011 and a follow-up report The Geography of Trafficking in Tennessee 2013. These studies shine a spotlight on a disturbing crime trend that is little known and is rarely publicized: modern day slavery.

Special Agent Carlos M. Gutierrez of the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation is the instructor for this seminar. It is sponsored by the Upper Cumberland EMS Director's Association.

Special Agent Gutierrez has served in law enforcement since 2009. In 2013, Special Agent Gutierrez joined the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation and was assigned to the Drug Investigation Division in Memphis, Tennessee. In 2015, SA Gutierrez was assigned to the Human Trafficking Unit in Chattanooga, Tennessee. Special Agent Gutierrez is one of four TBI agents assigned to the first-ever state-wide unit devoted to human trafficking. Special Agent Gutierrez's education and training consists of a wide range of training events and conferences regarding the investigation of Drug Trafficking Organizations, Human Trafficking Organizations, and other relevant courses. Special Agent Gutierrez has planned and participated in numerous major undercover operations across the state of Tennessee, focusing on demand, identifying, and rescuing juvenile and adult victims of human trafficking, as well as arresting individuals promoting prostitution. Special Agent Gutierrez is a recurring Human Trafficking Instructor at the Cleveland State Law Enforcement Training Academy, Cleveland, Tennessee.
