MRC Volunteer Identification Card

All volunteers will receive their 2024 MRC Volunteer Identification Card through the mail during the month of January. This identification card allows volunteers through security during a public health event where the MRC has been deployed. It is important for volunteers to not self-deploy during an event. Volunteers will be notified via text, phone, and email of any request for assistance from the MRC unit. Only pre-identified, documented volunteers with a current MRC Volunteer Identification who have been asked to report for duty by the MRC Coordinator will be allowed through security. This identification is only to be used to gain entrance to the work site. Once a volunteer has been deployed and reported to the requested work site, each volunteer will receive an MRC Identification Badge to be used throughout their deployment.

2022 MRC Network Profile

The National Association of County and City Health Officials (NACCHO) along with the Medical Reserve Corps recently released the 2022 MRC Network Profile. The next few newsletters will review the results.
